

Does your paint meet the new 2007 E.U. Paint regulations

Yes, all of our products meet the new 2007 EU Paint Regulations and many surpass it to meet the forthcoming 2010 Regulations.

Auro have been developing products to meet these regulations for many years already, specifically the water based, solvent free wood and paint finishes. As these have been in the marketplace since 2002 they have the added assurance that they really do work, confirmed by several approvals to DIN and EN, especially the prestigious EN 927 durability norm demanded by window manufacturers.

AURO is prepared to suddenly update products to meet new regulations.
